Easter Lilies

*See how the lilies trumpet forth their joy!
And all the crowding wild-flowers of the field
Lift up their silent offerings of song.*

*They have come up from darkness to the light
Rejoicing in the life that never died,
Having an unbelieving world to bless
By evidence of joy before our sight.*

The picture was taken in October, 1952 while Eisenhower was a presidential candidate.

Pankow was on the Bay Bridge when Eisenhower's motorcade started through, and he snapped this sober, almost grim, picture of the usually smiling late President.

Merchants Blamed For Parking Ills At CBA Dinner

A blue-ribbon traffic panel last Thursday blamed Carmel merchants and their employees for creating any parking problem the city might have.

A Carmel Business Association dinner at the La Playa Hotel, attended by more than 200 members and guests, heard the panel chide the membership for playing "musical cars" with the downtown curbside parking places, thus denying visitors and potential customers a place to park.

"Sixty per cent of the parking citations we issue involve you business people and your employees," Carmel Police Chief and panelist Clyde Klaumann told the meeting.

"If you would leave on-street parking facilities open for customers, residents and visitors, 3,356 cars each day could find parking places," Klaumann said.

Panel member and city administrator Hugh Bayless said there were 200 people who work in Carmel — people who play the musical cars game each day.

"If 1,000 curbside parking places are used by you, you don't leave much parking space for people who are going to buy your wares," Bayless told the group.

He maintained that there was some doubt that there really was a parking problem. He said the spaces for parking were actually there, but they are wasted because people play silly games like removing the chalk marks on tires and moving the cars.

Bayless pointed out that over the years, a number of suggestions, some valid, most of them impractical, had been made to solve the problem, including perimeter blacktop areas to provide ample parking.

Carmel artist and gallery owner James Cost, speaking from the floor, maintained that he would rather see cars parked half way to Salinas on the Monterey-Salinas Highway than see Carmel turned into a shopping center.

"I hope the parking problem gets so bad people have to walk into town," he said.

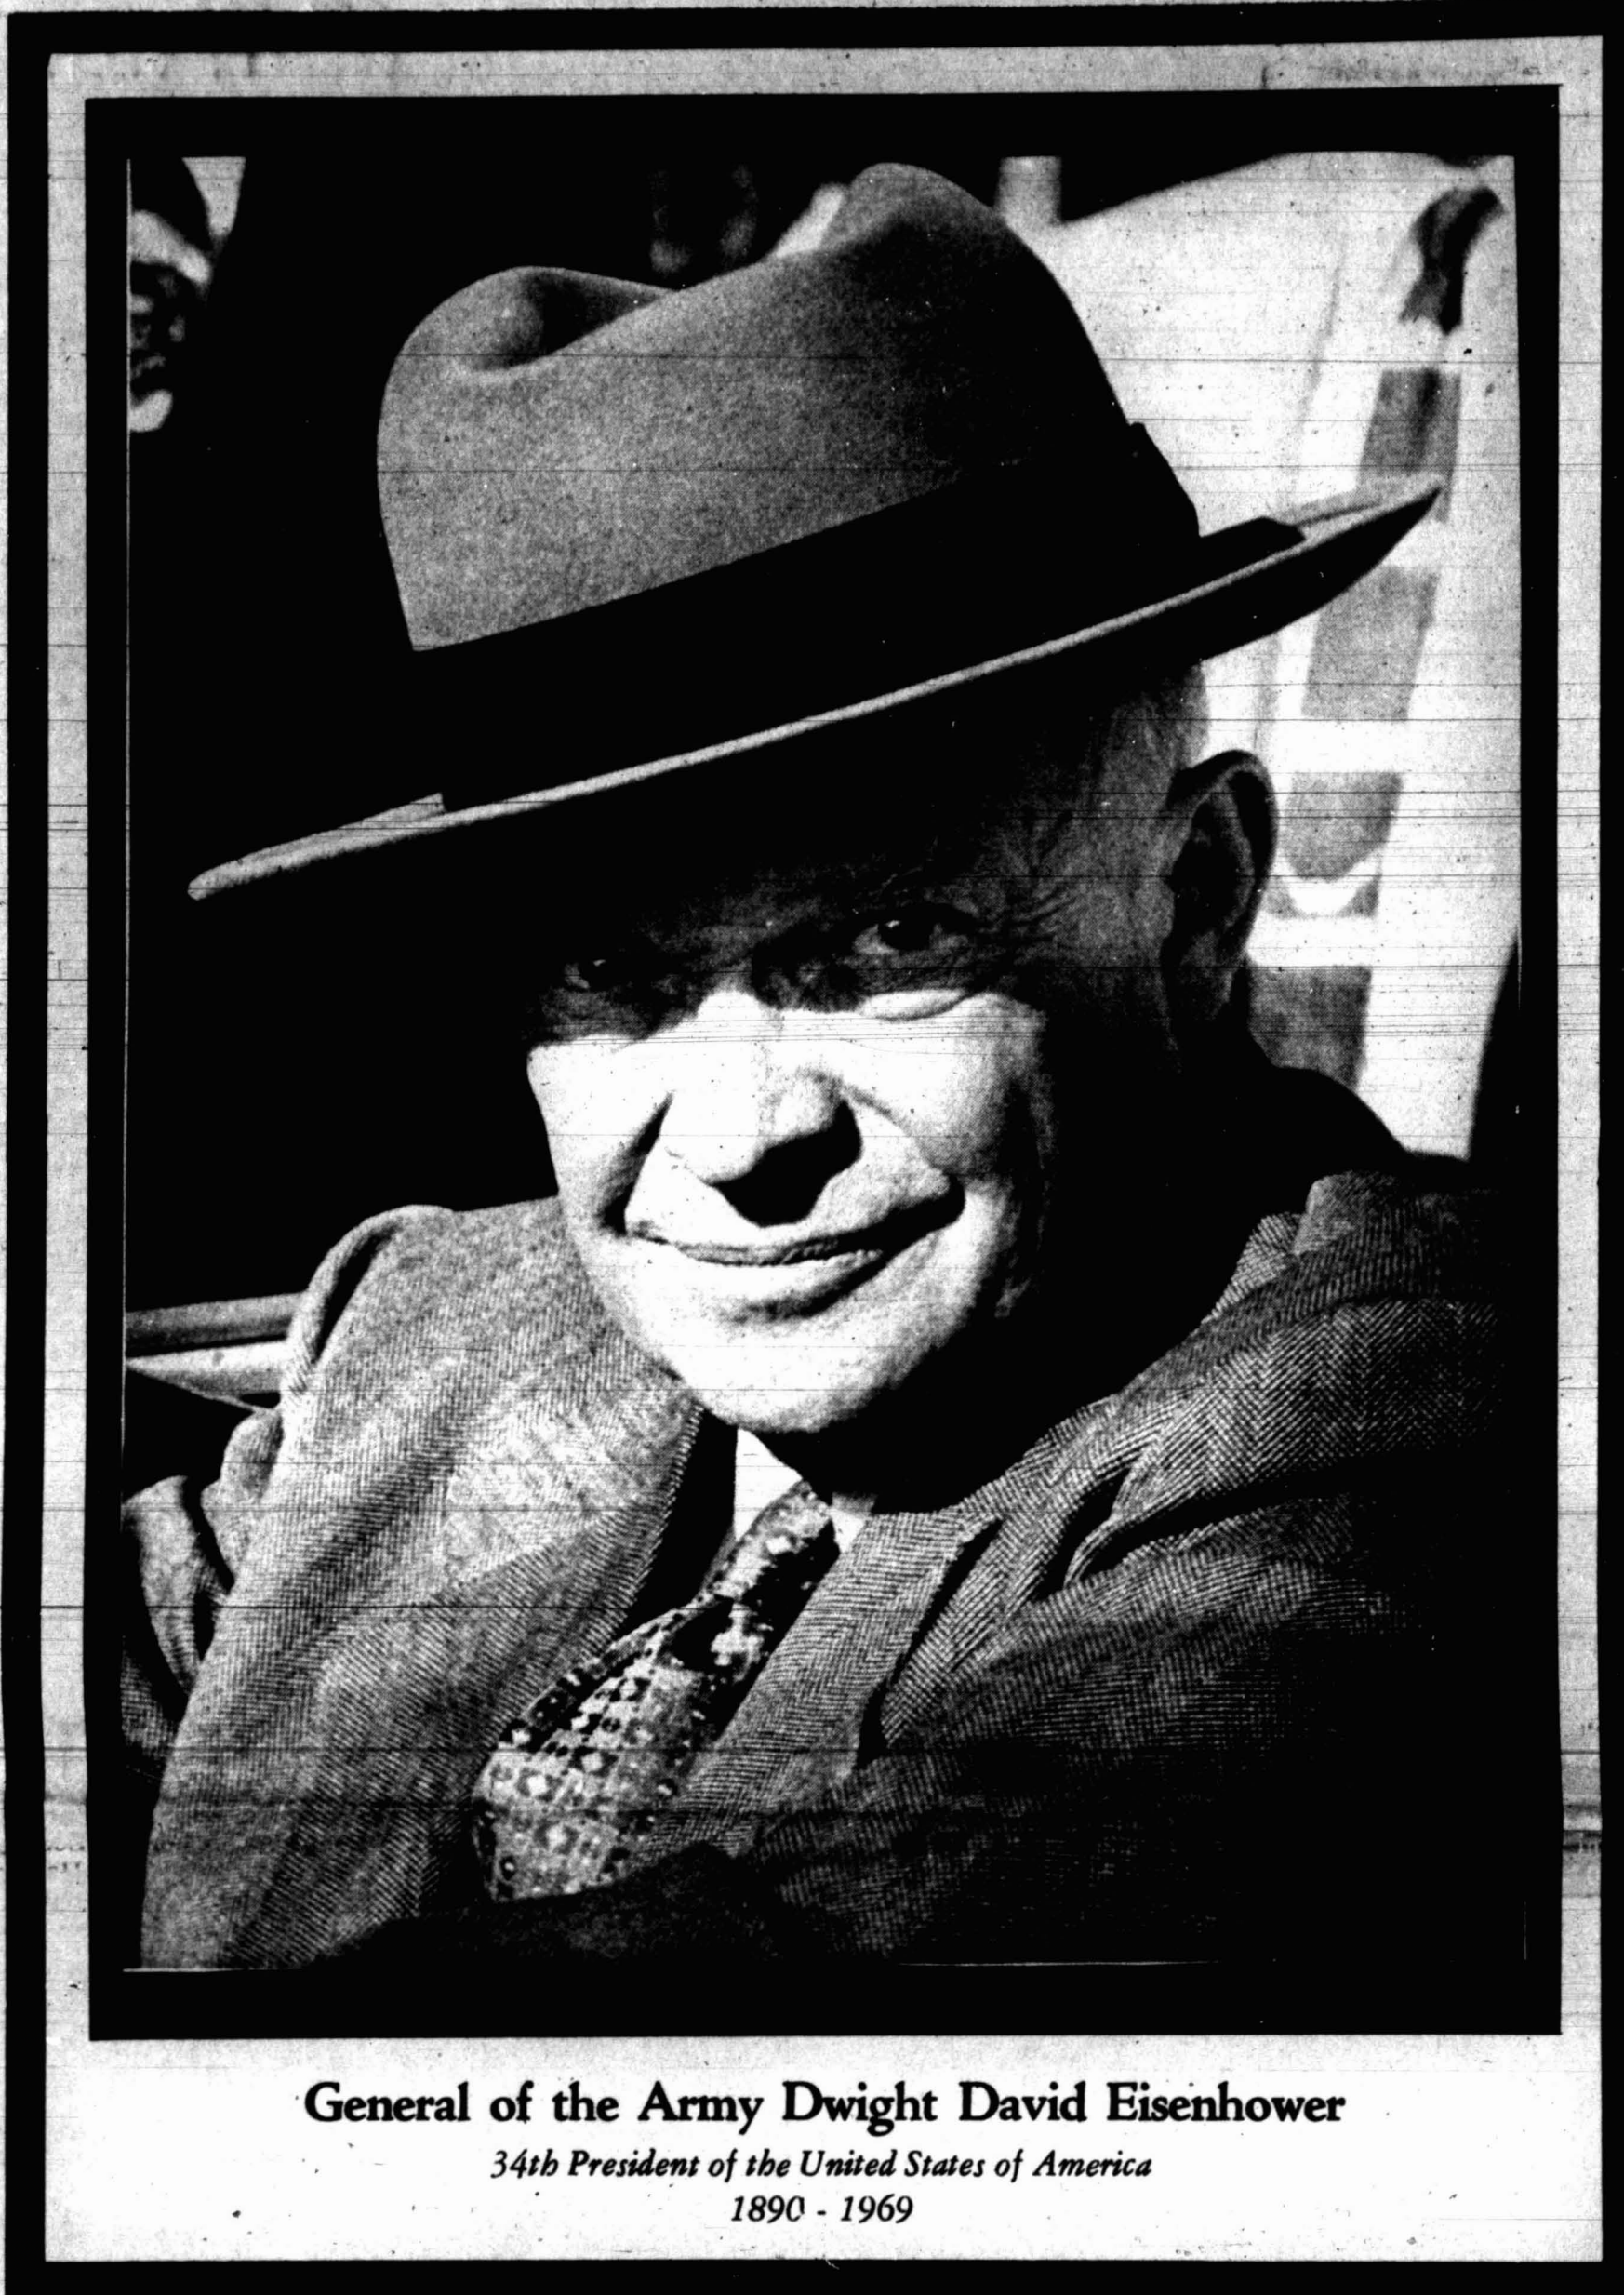

No concrete solution to the parking problem or lack of it, was found other than the finger-pointing at the merchants.

It was pointed out that in large, metropolitan areas, businessmen are lucky if they have to walk only five or six blocks from where they park their car to their place of business.

This led to the suggestion that merchants and their employees take advantage of the free parking facilities offered at Sunset Center.

Other members of the panel were city engineer Clayton Neill Sr., Robert Spencer, William Sefton and Walter McCloud.

CBA president Mary Barter presided.

'Ten Little Indians' Swings In Circle Theatre Opening

Agatha Christie, master craftsman in the mystery novel field, has taken a simple nursery rhyme and turned it into a theatric vehicle that the Carmel Community Players pound and pull and mold and shape and generally adapt to themselves, and lo... Ten Little Indians becomes a smash production at the Circle Theatre.

An opening night audience Friday hailed the strong direction, the slick production and polished performances of the group as they produced chuckles, laughs and tingling spines in the story of 10 people trapped on an island with a madman loose.

It's almost impossible to single out any one member of the cast for praise, although W. H. Scholefield as Sir Lawrence Wargrave, accused of sending an innocent man to the gallows, beautifully underplayed the part and made it completely believable.

Michael Keller applies his usual deft touch to this comedy-mystery that must move constantly to be effective, and that it does under his fine direction.

Jean McBride as Vera is a newcomer to Carmel Little Theater, and we are certainly going to demand a lot more of her in the future. She carries a difficult part with finesse and confidence.

Betty Fowlston as the puritanical spinster whose implacable, sneering fanaticism drives an erring girl to suicide adds new laurels to her already impressive list of triumph.

When you say that Ruth McElroy plays what amounts to almost a cameo role, you naturally are just not seeing enough of this talent in Ten Little Indians. But before the plot calls for her to be killed off, you know you are watching a superior actress.

I've seen community theater, summer stock, off-Broadway productions — the entire gamut of live theater — and I am constantly amazed at the exceptionally high quality of the productions of the various groups on the Monterey Peninsula.

The entire cast of Ten Little Indians plays with such gusto and enthusiasm that you swear you are seeing a $10-A-Seat Broadway production, and they play their parts with such confidence that you also feel that this is probably the 800th day of a successful run.

Harpsichordist William Read Amazes Chamber Music Society Listeners

A young man, William Read, still in his late twenties, gave a virtuoso performance on his own harpsichord at the Chamber Music Society concert at the Carmel Museum of Art Saturday evening.

While we had been told of the young man's excellence, he being "artist-in-residence" at the University of California at Santa Cruz, we were unprepared for the temperament as well as technique shown.

Furthermore, he claims to have been largely self-taught on the instrument, having first encountered one in the restored Colonial town of Williamsburg, Virginia near his home in Newport News, when he was about 14 years old. He of course had studied the piano, but by listening to recordings by the great harpsichordists, he managed to work out his own system of achieving the variety of tones and effects heard in the weekend recital.

His program began with the rousing notes of Bach's Toccata in D Major. One would have sworn that a sustaining pedal was among the pedals below the double keyboard, so smooth was his organ touch, in the second part of it.

A dance suite by Louis-Nicolas Clerambault, inspired by the French lute music of the 16th century, allowed him to show off the delicacy as well as the rich tones of his custom made instrument. His harpsichord, a beautiful scarlet, black and gold instrument, was built by Rutkowski and Robinette in New York, where he has lived for a number of years.

Bach's Italian Concerto composed in the form of the concerto grosso in which he manipulated the top and bottom manuals so that it sounded as though he were playing with an orchestra, he played by memory.

Six sonatas by Scarlatti, played with passionate feeling demonstrated further the variety of effects contained in the instrument and the fast and colorful runs and arpeggios of which he was capable. Scarlatti, by the way, was born in the same year as Bach, he commented.

The audience was further charmed by his encores, Handel's "Harmonious Blacksmith" suite, and Couperin's delicate "Tic Toc" in which the staccato left hand was accompanied by his right hand.

If there was any flaw in our enjoyment, it was that we could not see him as well as we liked. It was suggested that a low platform beneath the beautiful rug would not spoil the intimate "chamber" effect of the museum.

Choral Society Consoles and Lifts Spirits of Its Audience in 'Messiah'

Handel's great Easter message, the "Messiah" was given the community by some 80 voices in the Monterey Peninsula Choral Society led by conductor Haymo Taeuber, at the Naval Postgraduate School King Hall, Sunday afternoon.

Highlighted by four fine voices, those of Norma Jean Hodges, soprano, of Carmel, Glenna De Weese, alto, Marvin Klebe, bass and Orva Hoskinson, tenor, the performance was accompanied by Warren Coker at the organ and a small orchestra of 24 pieces, about the same size as the one in the first performance in Dublin, Ireland, led by Handel in 1741.

There was a purity about the interpretation which was free of operatic fulsomeness, yet there was a warmth of feeling, especially on the part of Mrs. Hodges and Klebe which gave solace to all who heard them.

In deference to the death of former President Dwight Eisenhower, applause was uncertain, but at the end of the performance, the audience rose to express its appreciation for the great gift by the members of the Choral Society, the orchestra and their leader.

While the orchestra seemed a bit thin by comparison with augmented ranks in its recent concert, it moved along at a lilting pace, especially while Miss De Weese sang the "Behold, a virgin shall conceive," recitative.

The cellos and basses were very beautiful as they supported her. Violins were light and delicate in the "Pastoral Symphony" section and Mrs. Hodges sang with charm.

The great air, "He shall feed his flocks" sung in duet by Mrs. Hodges and Mrs. DeWeese, gave comfort to all, and the "Hallelujah" chorus which was the climax of part II promised a glorious peace to come.

Particularly hopeful were the trumpet sounds of the organ which proclaimed that "we shall be changed."

A wonderfully light and airy effect was achieved by conductor Taeuber with the large chorus which seemed to gather surety and strength as it proceeded, ending finally in the long final phrase of "glory and power."

Symphonic Band Coming

Mr. and Mrs. Charles R. Woodson greet guests at the Carmel Valley home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. Mark Thomas, following their marriage at St. Dunstan's Episcopal Church on Saturday.

Sherry Thomas Weds Charles Woodson

The wedding of Sherry Thomas and Charles Woodson was performed by Rev. James Brock of St. Dunstan's Church on Mar. 29 at 3:30 p.m.

Sherry is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. Mark Thomas of Carmel Valley and Charles is the son of Mr. and Mrs. William N. Woodson, also of the Valley.

Given in marriage by her father, Sherry wore an ivory peau de soie gown, falling to a full sweep train. Her long sleeves and Edwardian collar were trimmed with French Chantilly lace.

She wore a lace cap and long veil of English net illusion and carried white roses and lily of the valley.

Maid of honor was her sister Karen, and attendants included another sister, Mrs. David A. Ogilvie (Julie Thomas) of Denver, and Mrs. William N. Woodson

III, her sister-in-law, of Novato.

They were dressed in Victorian gowns with high neck pink chiffon blouses and pale green and rose brocade skirts draped with rose velvet. They carried Colonial nosegays of sweetheart roses, daisies and gypsophila and their coronets were of the same flowers.

William N. Woodson III served as his brother's best man. Ushers included Sherry's brother, Edwin James Thomas, Gary Turner of Pebble Beach, Raymond Sumida and Michael Kucher, both of Monterey.

The couple will live on the Peninsula while they complete work at the Monterey Institute of Foreign Studies and Monterey Peninsula College. Next fall they plan to attend the University of Hawaii.

Outdoor Wedding

The wedding of Julia Collier, Marble, to Chasper Fischbacher was held underneath a giant white oak in the meadow above Rana Creek Ranch, Carmel Valley, the home of her family, Mr. and Mrs. Robert E. Marble. The Rev. James W. Brock of St. Dunstan's officiated.

Dressed in traditional white with jewel neckline and short sleeves, the bride carried white freesias, ranunculi and lilies of the valley.

Her attendants who included the bridegroom's sister, Miss Joy Fischbacher of Carmel Valley, were dressed in pale yellow and carried nosegays of mixed spring flowers in all colors.

The groom's brother, Christian Fischbacher Jr. served as best man, and ushers included the bride's brother, Robert Marble.

The groom's father and Mrs. Fischbacher flew from Switzerland for the occasion. Also present was Mrs. Robert von Pagenhardt of Carmel Valley and Prof. von Pagenhardt, for her son's wedding.

A reception at the bride's home overlooking the valley

Membership Tea At Woman's Club

A reception and tea honoring new members of the Carmel Woman's Club will be held at the Clubhouse on Monday, Apr. 7, from two to four p.m.

Joining the President, Miss Ianthe Densmore, in the receiving line are several past presidents of the Club: Mrs. Robert Bannister, Mrs. Alexander Cleary, Mrs. Rhea M. Diveley, Mrs. Franchon Freeman and Mrs. J. R. Lynas; two Life Members, Mrs. Walter C. Adams and Mrs. L. C. Miller; and Mrs. D. L. Stanniford.

George Vyes Celebrates Their 50th

Carmelites of 44 years standing, George and Helene Vye, were feted recently at a dinner party given by Mr. and Mrs. John Dowdakin of Carmel Valley on the occasion of their 50th wedding anniversary.

Mrs. Vye, Basque by birth, and her English-born husband met in Paris before the first World War. He was serving with the Canadian 72nd Seaforth Highlanders. She owned or managed two dress shops in Carmel for many years, one Helene Vye's Gowns, on Ocean Avenue, next to Merle's Treasure Chest.

Among the guests were Mr. and Mrs. Bill O'Malley, Mrs. Jean (Gaby) Costamagna, Mme. Germaine Olive, Mrs. Lewis Josselyn, Mrs. James Cook, longtime Carmelite now living in San Francisco, Miss Adrienne Defour, Clementine Herlax and Alfred Bauer.

Mr. and Mrs. Kavous Monadjemi were married recently in a simple Baha'i ceremony at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Dahl in Pebble Beach. Mr. Monadjemi made his home in Carmel and Monterey for several years before attending the University of Oregon where he completed work for his master's degree in Music. Here he met Miss Marcia Bunker, a technical draftsman in the science department. After a wedding trip to Yosemite, the couple will live in Ashland, Oregon where Mr. Monadjemi teaches music.

Maureen Dyer Yeds In Carmel Valley Ceremony

The marriage of Miss Maureen Dyer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harwell Dyer of Carmel Valley, and Robert Bradford, Peninsula writer, took place recently at her parents' home in Carmel Valley, the Rev. Sidney Peterman of the Unitarian Church officiating.

The engagement of Linda Shepard, now of Brookline, Mass., to David C. Tedrow of Cambridge, Mass. has been announced by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Paul G. Shepard of Carmel. Linda, a graduate of Carmel High School, who has been studying and working in Boston, flew here with her fiancé for her parents' blessing.

Linda Shepard Engaged

An August wedding in Newton, Mass., is planned for the wedding of Linda Shepard, formerly of Carmel, and David C. Tedrow of Cambridge, Mass. who received his degree in civil engineering at Pennsylvania State and his master's degree at the University of Connecticut.

David was awarded the National Defense Medal and Joint Services Commendation Medal for his service in Vietnam with US Army Corps of Engineers as a lieutenant.

Linda's sister Debra, a senior at Holy Cross School in Mountain View, will be maid of honor. Suzette Smith of Carmel, a sophomore at the UC Davis will also be in the wedding party.

Pebble Beach Easter Activities

Many Easter activities are planned for Pebble Beach. Following Easter services at Arrowhead Point at 8 a.m. at which Church of the Wayfarer Children's Choir will sing, brunch will be served at Del Monte Lodge from 11 to 2 p.m. where parents can watch an Easter Egg Hunt to be held at 11:30 a.m.

At the Beach and Tennis Club, lunch will be preceded by a kite flying contest.

School District May Lose Funds

"Budgeting," said Supt. Harris Taylor at the last meeting of the school board, "is certainly a problem when we have no idea what our income will be."

"The Proposition 1A tax relief of $70 per household may amount to $35,000 to $50,000. The talk in Washington of cutting aid to school districts supporting military dependents may mean another $50,000."

In other business a school calendar for next year was adopted. Sept. 4 will be opening day, with teachers on duty at faculty meetings Sept. 2 and 3. The usual holidays and recesses will be in order.

It was decided to discontinue bus service for students living in the Mission Fields and Atherton-Mesa areas since a traffic signal has been installed at Rio Road.

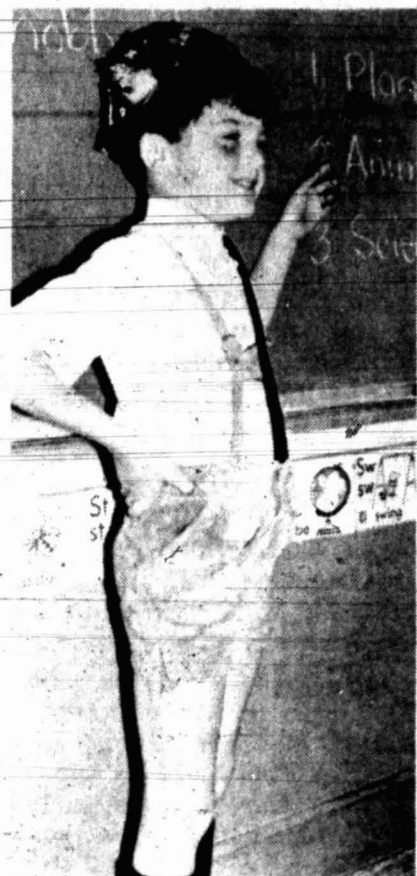

A policy regarding meals for needy pupils was decided upon.

A bid to construct four tennis courts at Middle School was awarded for $10,770. Bids for supplies were also approved.

The resignations of two Middle School teachers, Betsy Taylor and Jan Michaelson, were accepted.

Fifty two teachers expressed interest in teacher work sessions on individual instruction, reported Taylor.

FABRIC LESSON — is illustrated by students on dress-up day in Mrs. Susan Estes' class at River school which has been studying live silk worms. Marco Cappelli points to material from which his leather outfit from Austria is made.

Science Fair At Middle School

The Sixth Annual Science Fair at Middle School will be held the evenings of April 22 and 23 to coincide with Public Schools Week.

The teaching of Science at Carmel Middle School aims at directed inquiry through individual efforts. Each student is encouraged to explore, test, observe and think on his own on designing and conducting his project. The best learning experience is a project conceived and completed by the student — not his friends or parents.

This method of teaching science provides the student the opportunity to really live as a scientist. He will have observed something of interest to himself. He will have measured the differences he observed.

Our Schools

School Libraries and Science Labs To Be Open During the Summer

An enriching and creative new summer program for high school and elementary students which would not be tightly scheduled was proposed before the Carmel School Board last week by Dr. James Halcomb, Assistant Superintendent of Instructional Services.

Open libraries at River, Woods, Middle, Carmel and Tularcitos Schools from 10:30 a.m. to 2 p.m. daily for six weeks beginning June 23 would encourage reading, he said.

Three part-time reading teachers would be available in each library from 9 to 12 noon for several days a week. They would provide individual or small group instruction.

Science instruction emphasizing field work and lab activities for interested students would be provided one day a week at each school.

A daily recreation program at each school would provide arts, crafts, and games from 1 to 4 p.m. and drama at Woods and Tularcitos from 2 to 4 p.m.

A school bus might be available for field trips but parents would furnish transportation to the labs.

Supt. J. Harris Taylor said it would be the district's job to make the program interesting. The plan would offer variety, along with the summer swimming and diving program, would be flexible so that youngsters could be absent part of the time and not miss out completely.

Rev. James Brock, Board member, commented that it sounded like a relaxed program to which a young person might be attracted.

High School

At the high school level, instructional music, math laboratory in the use of the computer and driver training, reimbursed by state funds, would be offered.

Pottery, sewing, and two art classes, funded by adult education would be given to high school students for credit.

Interested students would be encouraged to enroll in traditional courses in Pacific Grove and Monterey Summer School programs. The Carmel district will assume responsibility for counseling, enrollment, and transportation.

With the help of State Aid and Recreation funds, the anticipated net cost would be $3,792. The board will vote on the program at the April 9 meeting.

Parent Effectiveness Training Talk

A new type of Parent Effectiveness Training was explained at the last Parents' Club meeting at Carmelo School recently by Ron Blanchette who is leading a weekly evening workshop for parents in Monterey.

The training consists of methods that help children find solutions to their own problems; that reduce the frequency of family conflicts; of resolving conflicts with solutions mutually acceptable to both adult and child and that increase communication.

The method involves active listening, expressing feelings in a way that is not threatening or degrading, and planning together with children how to avoid conflict.

Carmel district parents interested in forming another evening workshop may call Mrs. A. Bui at 394-9517.

Education For Creativity

The need for creativity, not limited merely to fine arts and the academic field of humanities but in the field of interpersonal relations was expressed by George Faul, Monterey Peninsula College president in a panel meeting before the Parent-Faculty Club at River School recently.

Other panelists were James Peter Cost, Carmel artist and former teacher, Mike Murphy, founder of Esalen Institute at Big Sur, Dr. Hilton Bialek, research psychologist, and Carmel Schools superintendent Dr. Harris Taylor.

Murphy described work with fifth and sixth graders who became more excited and interested in learning when their school work was combined with sensory awareness. He criticized the conditioning process of fear and anxiety which blocks receptiveness to inquiry.

Bialek suggested giving children and parents a choice between a school with a traditional program and one with a more open and experimental approach.

Cost noted that creativity in any area must be based on acquired skills.

Last Chance To Hear Candidates

Carmel School District voters will have their last chance to hear and question school board candidates on Monday evening, Apr. 7 at 8 p.m. at Tularcitos Rd. on Ford Rd., one block off Carmel Valley Rd. Also County and MPC School Board candidates will be heard.

Music, Art and Foreign Language Plans For Fifth Grade Made

Plans for the fifth grade program to be given in the elementary schools which would approach as nearly as possible what they were receiving at Middle School, were presented at the last board meeting, by Dr. James Halcomb.

In each field of art, music, foreign language and physical education, the students will receive 100 minutes a week of instruction, half from specialists, half from regular teachers.

Gene Perrine will teach classroom music at River three days a week, and at Woods and Carmel one day a week. John Farr will continue to teach both instrumental and classroom music at Tularcitos.

Robert Skiles, as art specialist, will be assigned to Tularcitos and Carmelo schools.

These teachers will be supplemented by art and music specialists from the community, perhaps not credentialed, but fully capable.

Dr. Hilton M. Bialek suggested that teacher aides from the community be brought in for the foreign language instruction also. Rev. James Brock made a similar suggestion for athletics.

Language arts will be allotted 400 minutes; mathematics, 200, science, with the aid of laboratory kits, 200, and social sciences-health, 300 minutes.

Instrumental music instruction will continue to be provided interested students on an individual or small group basis by Miss Sharon Jones.

The expanded program will cost $40,500.

FUTURE VIOLINIST — Dana Lang, at Woods School, is being taught by Miss Sharon Jones, how to play the violin. Incidentally, Dana is a Pine Cone salesgirl.

Music Festival At Hartnell

Middle School students in string ensembles, chorus and advanced band participated in the annual Tri-County Music Festival at Hartnell College in Salinas Saturday.

FLUTE IS HELD PROPERLY — By Leslie Henry, in Miss Jones' instrumental class at Woods School. Leslie is in 4th grade.

CLARINETISTS WILL PLAY — In both orchestra and band later on after Miss Jones teaches them how. From left, 4th graders at Woods' School, Lisa Lamber, Todd Patrick and Donna Williams.

MEXICAN WINTER — Bright orange wool costume is worn by Susan Nash who has just pointed out on the map behind her where Mexico is located.

CINDERELLA SHOP

It's spring weather and perfect for this cool, plaid by David Crystal. Modeled by Mrs. LeRoy Ramsey, this mint green sleeveless dress, available at the Cinderella Shop, is given an extra swish of fashion by a long-sleeved short-cropped jacket. Made of a blend of 55% cotton and 45% arnel this go-where-you-please outfit also comes in yellow and grey. This is just one of the outfits by David Crystal that the Cinderella Shop is featuring.

Pictured in the March 1 edition of Harper's Bazaar is a David Crystal selection that you can find at the Cinderella Shop. Cinderella Lane, Ocean near Dolores. P.O. Box AN, Carmel.

INSTANT SUCCESS

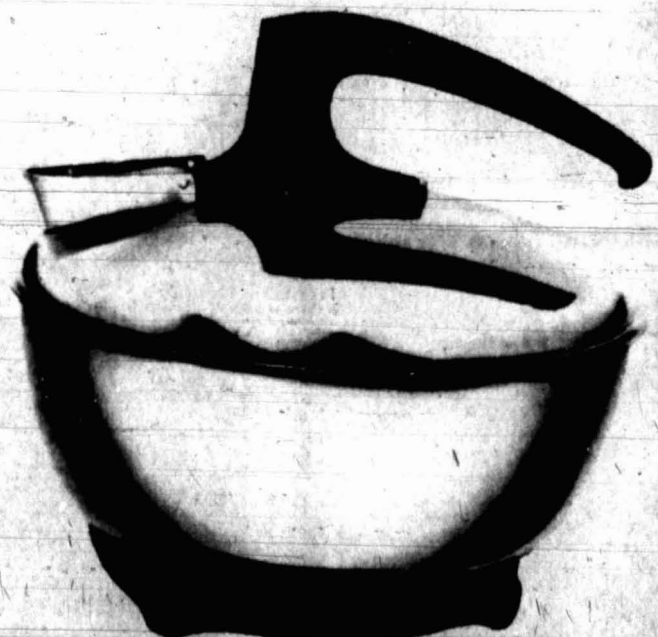

What's attractive to look at, easy to use, priced for a Scotchman's purse and has a wide range of uses? An electric tea kettle — of course!

Made of glistening stainless steel, the electric tea kettle provides almost instant boiling water for instant coffee, tea, cocoa or hot chocolate, for Jello, instant breakfast foods, instant soup, potatoes or rice and even for making dyes and coloring for Easter eggs.

Easy to keep clean, the tea kettle with its attractive designs will look well in any home or office and sells for only $13.95. Take it on vacation with you because it's so handy — needs no range. An ideal gift for Mother's Day.

Added features are an automatic shut-off lest you forget, and a cool plastic handle. It's also scald-proof.

US Economy In No Danger Now Says Witter Report

The health of the American economy during the 1970's depends upon the success of fiscal and monetary restraints — the administration's medicine for the ills of inflation.

This is the opinion of Dean Witter Co.'s Economic Policy Committee in a Positive Investment Policy report issued this week entitled "Spring Market Outlook, 1969."

The firm's top-ranked economists and analysts said that despite the near-term impact of the restraints, "we feel that the great thrust of the growing American economy will reassert itself by late 1969 or early 1970 as relative price stability is achieved."

The Committee also made these observations about the nation's monetary status:

* Fiscal and monetary restraints, acting in concert, are intended to slow the growth of the Gross National Product, capital spending, consumer demand, and prices.

* The sensitive short-term money market continues to be critically tight, affecting the borrowing activities of many state and local governments as well as corporate treasurers.

* The Federal budget is continuing to move in the direction of disinflation, with April, 1969, tax collections expected to produce an approximate balance in the national accounts.

Dean Witter & Co. recommends a list of long-term growth prospects, smaller companies with prospects the firm considers outstanding, and fixed income securities.

'Do It Yourself' Carmel Knit Shop To Cut Sweater Costs

By Kathy Hall

Want that baby blue pull-over sweater that's been featured in the show window at the local department store, but find you just can't afford it?

Carmel has a new shop that guarantees a sweater to its customers just as lovely as a ready-made at only 1/3 the retail price.

At the recently opened Carmel Knit Fabrics, the customer can soon learn to make his or her own sweater, dress, skirt, slacks or even bathing suit.

Featuring only knit materials, Carmel Knit Fabrics carries a wide variety of colors and patterns from heavy double-knit wools to lightweight polyesters, comfortable for summer wear.

Marie Borsella and Ruth Pierovich, both skilled in working with knit fabrics, are partners in the business and will be available to help their customers in selecting materials for their patterns.

Miss Borsella, who has worked in the fashion business for 25 years, both as a high school teacher in the Monterey Bay area and a dress designer in San Francisco and Hollywood is conducting classes on Mondays at the store.

Carmel Knit Fabrics also has a special dressmaker who will take orders for garments. Material for Alpaca sweaters is also featured at the shop. In addition they will have Alpaca sweaters ready-made and available for sale at the store. They also carry sweater bodies of wool and some orlons.

According to both Miss Borsella and Miss Pierovich, Carmel Knit Fabrics is an exclusive type of shop for this area. Customers will be allowed to cut out their patterns and sew them at the shop.

"Many of the knits are washable too," Miss Borsella said, "such as the polyesters and Dacrons."

Carmel Knit Fabrics is open from 10 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. Tuesday through Sunday. For further information about the classes call Miss Borsella at 624-5727. Sixth and San Carlos in the Mall. P.O. Box 2625, Carmel.

Planting Day

Most of the trees given away by the Carmel Forestry Commission just before Christmas were planted in or near Carmel.

Only six percent of the 1700 trees given out were planted in other nearby localities. Five percent were taken to more distant parts of California and three percent to places outside the state.

According to City Forester Bob Tate, 300 people took 1000 Monterey Pine and 700 Redwood. A fourth of the people were repeat customers who had planted trees in previous years.

Each customer was limited to five pines and three redwoods as the Forestry Commission cannot supply trees for reforestation programs. Written instructions were given to all persons receiving seedlings.

Results of a questionnaire show that at least 90 percent of the pines and half or more of the redwoods survive.

Camp for Blind Children Opens

Enchanted Hills Camp for Blind Children, Youth and Adults is now taking applications for visually-handicapped campers. For camp applications please contact: Mrs. Corky Rich, Camp Director, 432 Appalachian Way, Martinez, California 94553. 932-2055.

Enchanted Hills, with 311 acres of redwoods, is located 50 miles north of San Francisco, high above Napa Valley. Its facilities are especially designed for blind campers with guide ropes for fast and easy travel, Brailled name plates on the many species of trees for identification, and a slightly raised edge around the swimming pool so that bare feet will know they are near the water. These are only a few of the many features that make Enchanted Hills unique.

An Enchanted Hills Campership Fund is maintained by the San Francisco Light-house for the Blind to aid the blind children who cannot afford the fee.

No blind boy or girl is ever refused admission due to inability to pay.

The Campership fund is supported by public contributions and interested organizations.

NEW ART FORM

A one-man show of a new art form called "Dyna-flora" is currently on exhibition at the Mariposa Place Gallery in San Juan Bautista.

"Dyna-flora," a dynamism expressed in rampant floral patterns, is the creation of Carmel artist Gunnel, who in private life is Mrs. Marcel Sedletzky, wife of a talented and inventive Carmel architect.

Gunnel is a native of Sweden, who came to the U.S. in 1950 to study art.

"Changing Sails"

Raymond Wallace Opens Galleries

By Louise Cook

Evidence of the seafaring adventures of artist-yachtsman Raymond E. Wallace is seen in the drama of his marine paintings.

A new gallery in the Mall on San Carlos St. has just opened, showing exclusively the paintings of Mr. Wallace.

This artist works with authority in all mediums. His renderings of historical ships are all created from extensive research and are authentic in every detail.

The Australian and United States yachts are shown fighting for the America Cup. This is done in oil with palette knife.

"Crossing The Bar" shows an immense swell of blue-green water hiding all but the very top of a hidden ship's sails. A dramatic scene of oiled seamen on a bowsprit, changing the outer jibs, against the background of a stormy and threatening sky, is titled "Changing Headsails."

Raymond Wallace portrays the sea in all its moods.

A charming water color miniature, "Broken Pane," depicts a view at Monterey Wharf as it was in 1880. A pen and ink sketch takes us back to the Wharf as it looked in 1885.

Wallace is the designer and naval architect of the full scale replica ship "Columbia" at Disneyland. This is the ship which discovered the Columbia River and gave the river its name.

Affection and nostalgia is in evidence in these paintings of an all but departed era of marine life.

National Parks Slide Subject

"Our National Parks" will be the subject of a color slide presentation and talk by Herman Volz at the Town
House, Lincoln near 8th,
Wednesday, Apr. 9 at 2:30.

The Carmel Foundation offers the program to the general public as well as its membership free of charge.

Volz has been a resident of Carmel for 3 years. He is well known for his many previous slide talks on countries of Europe, as well as for his skill in woodcarving.
He started to practice this art in grammar school in Germany, and has resumed
it in the classes offered by the Carmel Foundation.

Churchwomen Will Hear Dr. Swigart

Dr. Margaret Swigart will be the guest speaker at the luncheon meeting of the St.
John's Episcopal Churchwo-men on Apr. 8 in the St.
John's Parish Hall.

Dr. Swigart, a Pacific Grove physician, has recently returned from Rhodesia, and will describe her experiences there and illustrate her remarks by color slides she made during her stay there.

Mrs. H. W. Taylor will be hostess for the luncheon, which will begin at 12:30 p.m.

Welcome Wagon Week
Welcome Wagon International is observing the 41st anniversary of its founding as an organization, dedicated to the family, social welfare, and civic progress.

The Welcome Wagon hostess is a friendly link between her community and the newcomer, easing the over-burdening difficulties of establishing a new family living pattern. A local representative will be happy to make a visit anywhere in the Carmel with her basket of gifts and information. For more information or a visit, call 659-2411 or 659-4055.

Market Comments

Dow Theory Business and Stock Market Forecasts letter of Mar. 21. is still optimistic.

"Further tightening of credit in terms of the prime rate didn't upset the market this week and this was a good sign. Now if volume begins to expand on any further rally, indications would be very encouraging indeed. Buy and hold stocks in anticipation of a possible spring-summer rally."

One of their recommendations is Northwest Airlines.

Husband-Wife April Show At MPMA

During the month of April the Monterey Peninsula Museum of Art will present a dual show by one of the best known husband and wife teams working in the visual art field today: Mr. and Mrs. Mark Adams.

Mark Adams has earned an international reputation for his magnificent tapestries, mosaics and stained glass.

Mrs. Adams, known professionally as Beth Van Hoesen, is equally famous for her superb graphics.

Both are represented in the permanent collections of major United States Museums. Her collectors include the New York Museum of Modern Art, Brooklyn Museum, Pasadena Museum, Smithsonian Institute, Chicago Art Institute, and the Victoria and Albert Museum in London; among his collectors are the Dallas Museum, New York's Chase Manhattan Bank, San Francisco's Public Library and new Bank of California headquarters.

Private collections in which he is represented include the Rockeller, Cowles, and Ownings. The San Francisco Museum of Art's collection includes the work of both.

Additionally, both have won many prizes and awards, and have exhibited in juried and invitational shows regionally, nationally, and internationally.

Among their many one-man shows, both list DeYoung Museum, Stanford University, and Gump's, plus numerous others for each of them.

Mark Adams was born in Ft. Plain, New York, and attended Syracuse University and the Hans Hoffman School, with additional classes at Columbia University.

Atelier 17, and the Ecole Des Arts Decoratif, Aubusson.

Miss Van Hoesen was born in Boise, Idaho, and received her BA from Stanford. She took classes at Escuela Esmeralda, Mexico, and in France at Fontainebleau Ecole des Arts, Academie Julian, and Academie Grande Chaumier; and in San Francisco at the Art Institute and S.F. State.

Both of these fine artists achieve that rare acceptance by both critic and public: critics are always lavish in their praise, but the lay public is equally enthusiastic — conversely, the public's delight is echoed by the critic's reviews. Each is thoroughly professional and "at home" with a variety of media within their specific field.

Adams, though perhaps best known for his tapestries, also does murals, designs for stained glass, and mosaics. Locally, his work can be seen at the Carmel Mission Chapel and at All Saints Episcopal Church in Carmel, whose Baptistry windows he completed last year.

Miss Van Hoesen works mainly in Intaglio (etchings and dry point), but is also skilled in other graphic media.

Monterey Peninsula Museum of Art Association members and their guests are cordially invited to Meet the Artists at a Preview-Reception on Wednesday evening, Apr. 2 from 5 to 7 p.m. The exhibition will be open to the public from Apr. 3 through 30.

The museum is located on Lincoln Street between Ocean and 7th in Carmel, and is open from 11-5 Monday through Friday and from 2-5 on Saturdays.

COASTLINE (1869-1952) — This fine coastline view by Percy Gray demonstrates one of the many lithographic techniques used by Peninsula artists over the years. Gray exhibited first at the old Del Monte Hotel and later built his own studio, the well-known Casa Bonafacio, from the bricks and tiles of the original building after it had been torn down. Gray also saved the famous Sherman rose which he replanted at Casa Bonafacio, his newly restored studio. This lithograph is one of the many features of the present show of new acquisitions now at the Carmel Museum of Art. Over the last year a number of interesting and exciting works of early Peninsula artists have come into the collection by purchase and donation. Among them are major works by such other noted Peninsula artists as Maxine Albrow, August Gay, Ellwood Graham, Gene McComas, Eugen Neuhaus, Meyer Strauss, and many others. Augmenting this exhibit will be a small exhibition of graphic arts, in all mediums, including a pair of interesting lithographic portraits of Robert Aitken, an important California sculptor, by the noted American artist George W. Bellows. The exhibit will be open to the public at the Carmel Museum of Art, 10 a.m. to 4 p.m., Tuesday through Saturday, and will run to June.

Los Padres Storm Damage Estimate

This year's torrential rains between Jan. 18 and 26 and Feb. 19 and 25 in Los Padres National Forest resulted in severe landslides and washouts. Roads, trails, campgrounds and debris dams all suffered damage.

According to Forest Supervisor William H. Hansen, the Forest Service has a major rebuilding job ahead.

Hansen said damage reports submitted to the Regional Office in San Francisco estimate that it will cost $6½ million to restore Forest improvements to their original condition.

Hansen advised that anyone planning to venture away from paved roads on either dirt roads or trails should check with local Ranger Stations before doing so. Many roads and trails will be closed until repairs are made. While some restoration will be accomplished by this summer, other areas may not be open for a year or two. In addition, some campgrounds will not be available for use until late in the year.

The Supervisor reminded the public that they should refrain from visiting Forest areas during heavy storms and always check on conditions after these storms before leaving for the mountains. Severe damage can be done by driving on soft road beds in addition to the possibility of becoming stuck or stranded. Special care needs to be exercised in snow areas.

The highest total rainfall for the season was 94 inches at the Indians Station in Monterey County. This intensity storm has been rated as a 100-year frequency storm. The Santa Ynez River rose to its highest in history. At Los Prietos it was estimated that 486,200 gallons of water passed by every second.

Travel Bargains Abound in England

The British Isles are more and more becoming a Mecca for tourists who get the absolute most from the dollars they spend for travel.

So many combinations of plans that allow the tourist from the States to see everything at the pace he chooses are offered by travel agencies, and the low cost of local travel once the tourist arrives combine to make Great Britain one of the outstanding travel bargains today.

There is a pass that can be purchased from your local travel agent for about $50 that permits you unlimited journeys throughout within 15 days of your first England, Scotland and Wales ice, first class all the way. trip by scheduled train serv-

The pass, and several other BritRail offerings, must be purchased before leaving the U.S., so check local travel agents for details.

No visit to the British Isles is complete without a visit to Scotland.

This historic, hospitable and lovely country is a land of endless fascination.

In few other countries will you find so many colorful traditions. The Highland "Gathering of the Clans," the music of the pipes, the colorful tartan kilts and the individualistic dances all add to the delight of a Scottish visit.

There is color too, in the land itself. The green glens, sometimes misty with the early morning fog, the purple heather spreading for miles over both moor and mountainside, lochs of bright blue, and silver salmon rivers that flash and sparkle in the sun.

The entire country is a sportsman's dream. The visitor can fish for salmon or trout, swim, sail, climb, ski from December to May, and play golf on the most famous of all courses (may Pebble Beach, forgive me), The Royal and Ancient at St. Andrews.

Tours of the British Isles are now being offered by the Four Winds organization, handled locally by Dick Phinney Travel Agency in Carmel.

MPC Will Offer Summer Tour

A three-week tour of Plantagenet England and France offering three units of lower division college credit will be sponsored by Monterey Peninsula College July 26 — Aug. 16.

Entitled "The Lions in Summer," the tour will be conducted by Mrs. Edith Kares, an MPC English Instructor who has been a long-time student of English history, and Kurt Hartmann, a former newspaper publisher whose interest in the Plantagenet period dates back to his college days.

In addition to visits to locales associated with English history from the time of the Norman conquest to the year 1485, the tour will offer lectures by recognized British authorities on the Plantagenet period. Also offered will be a list of suggested readings encompassing the period covered by the tour. For those who successfully meet the requirements of the "course," three units of credit in Humanities 20AB (Institute) or History 4A (Institute) will be granted on petition.

Brochures describing the tour are available at the college or from Peninsula Travel Service at the Mark Thomas Inn, Monterey. Reservations must be made through the latter. Price of the tour, to include air and surface transportation, hotel accommodations and meals, is $975.

PARTY PLANS

by Phyllis Jervey

"What's a Keeping Room?"

Dru Dunn, who owns the only "public" one at least in Carmel Valley, tells us: "A Keeping Room in Colonial days was where the whole family gathered to eat what was cooking in the iron pot on its hearth tripod. Babies in trundle beds, warmth and food, men and women. Who could ask for more?"

Dru has added much more, so the natural reaction is not to leave but to be kept in her colorful room, breathing of spices and herbs, freshly baked breads and cakes, and to linger.

Where else could we find those individualized calico bags filled with her own magic combinations? Such as: "D.D.'s Kitchen Art Shrimp-Fondue Spice." Directions: Peel and devein raw shrimp, wash well then sprinkle with enclosed spices. Allow to rest several hours. Then in fondue (or other pan), dip in curry cream sauce made with 1 carton sour cream, 1 t. of Dru's spices, 1 t. curry powder. Serve over rice with assorted condiments.

Here is the "Spiced Butter Parisienne" bag: To one stick of butter, add 1 small wedge of roquefort cheese, 1/2 cup white Bordeaux wine; 1 t. D.D.'s spice contained in this particular bag. (Editor's note: this is the one that revives even tired old leftovers.)

Yes, there are many more of these seasoning baglets. And those little bottles of delicately colored and flavored "Love Sugars"!

To see is to believe! To taste is to enjoy! Dru's explanation of her "Serendipity Seasoning" is that it contains unexpected secret spices, to give pleasure and excitement.

So much has been written about Dru's amazing career as designer, professional party planner for the top magazine editors' New York galas. To us she is a friendly, balanced, magnetic person.

As we sipped Dru's fragrant broth we asked: "What would you serve (at home) for an impromptu supper... (meaning unusual). Dru thought, Phyllis waited. Here are two basic and quick supper dishes.

Jamaican Fungi

Two cups yellow cornmeal; 1 qt. liquid from freshly ground meat of coconut, unsweetened. (The West Indian coconut is so meaty that the liquid becomes thick as cream after carefully simmering... (or "simpering," as the Jamaican cooks say) in small amount of water. To milk dried coconuts, thrust an icepick into the "eyes," strain out milk. Crack open coconut; grate the insides and leave 30 minutes to make 2 cups milk to 1 cup grated coconut meat. After cooking over very low fire most gently, stirring often, (or use a double boiler) squeeze contents through several layers of cheesecloth or drain into fine sieve. Nowadays, one can buy an unsweetened commercial coconut cream on gourmet grocery shelves, which saves a lot of trouble! This information about "How To Extract Milk from a Coconut," interjected by "Party Plans," is to be found in the Caribbean chapters of Phyllis Jervey's "Rice & Spice" and "A World of Parties" now at the "Keeping Room."

To continue with Dru's delicious dish: (enough for six?)

After extracting the 1 qt. coconut milk, add 1/2 cup dried onion bits; 1 t. onion salt. Bring to a boil and add the cornmeal, reduce fire until liquid is absorbed. Fill small buttered molds with mixture; keep warm.

Now line the bottom of a heavy skillet with 1/4 inch peanut oil. In this saute either a cut up frying chicken, or 2 lbs. barracuda, or 18 shelled, deveined prawns or 6 pork chops. If more oil is needed, add it and dust contents with flour. Season well with "Serendipity."

During the meantime, you have simmered in a separate ciled pan, 2 Bermuda onions, thinly sliced, 1 large Bell pepper cut in rings, with cayenne to taste. Unmold the still warm cornmeal cups over whatever you've chosen, chicken, fish, chops.

Pour vegetables on top of this, add 1 t. fresh lime juice over all and garnish with watercress. Let's go back to Jamaica!

Listen to this Calypso song... "I guessed my pepper, my soup was too hot, I guessed the water, it dried in the pot; I guessed my salt, and what do you think? For the rest of the day we did nothing but drink. I guessed my sugar, my sauce was too sweet, and thus by my guesses I spoiled our treat; so now I guess nothing, for cooking by guesses, will ruin all skill and produce only messes."

Dru is an emphatic example that this "ditty" does not apply to her, although she cooks by intuition "guesses." But she always guesses right! Here is another proof (exclusive for Party Plans).

Dru Carries on Clam Conversation

Use any kind of very freshest clams in their shells, 6 per person, with 1/2 cup uncooked rice, 1/2 cup water and 1/2 cup Chablis wine per portion. In saucepan put 1/4 cup peanut oil, heat and add 1/2 cup dry minced onion, 1 large Bell pepper, diced finely, 2 stalks celery, chopped, a pinch, each, of thyme, oregano, sweet basil and ground celery seeds. Next comes 1 t. serendipity seasoning.

Mix and simmer until vegetables are transparent, add to heavy pot in which clams, rice and liquid repose. Cover and cook so gently that Dru talks to the still alive clams. She invites them to gorge themselves until their shells open up.

Uncover only when all is silent, which signifies that rice is cooked, liquid absorbed and clams can't answer back!

Sprinkle top with snipped fresh parsley. How is that for a Dru original? Served with South Carolina Spoon Bread, it is a marvelous dish for supper.

South Carolina Spoon Bread
One cup white water-ground cornmeal; 3 cups milk; 3 eggs, well beaten; 1 t. salt; 3 t. baking powder; 2 t. butter.

Stir meal into 2 cups milk, let come to a boil, stirring constantly, making a porridge. Add the other cup of milk, eggs, salt, baking powder and melted butter. Turn into a quart size buttered Pyrex dish. Bake in 400 F. oven 30 minutes and it is brown on top, but "spoonable" inside. Serves 6.

This is a Jervey family recipe from Charleston, S. C.

Do drop in at Dru's "Keeping Room" for luncheon (12-3:00) any day (excepting Monday). Her Southern Chicken Pot Pie, Swiss Quiche Lorraine or Keeping Room Sandwich luncheons keep you without waiting but also coming back for more. Her desserts are guaranteed to keep your weight up. Strawberry Chantilly, Rum Pumpkin Pecan Pie. Afternoon tea follows from 3 to 4:30. How can Dru do so much? She enjoys keeping busy.

As to Easter... there are baskets, candles, every kind of "goodie." Pumpkin cookies, others also, Conserves, Rum Pudding Cake and those amazing little figures in native costume made from dough in Ecuador (Not Eatable).

Serendipity also means finding something where and when you least expect to find it. Go to Dru's.

SKILLED CRAFTSMAN — This Mexican potter beams with pleasure as he fondles jar bearing the distinctive geometric pattern of his Indian heritage.

Final Explorarama Entitled 'I Love Mexico' Comes To Sunset Apr. 11

The Explorers Club of San Francisco has announced the final program of their current Explorarama series of professionally produced travel and adventure films.

Well-known film producer Thayer Soule will appear in person at 8:15 p.m., Friday, Apr. 11 at Sunset Auditorium to narrate his newest film "I Love Mexico." The exciting 2-hour program is a film with infinite variety, incredible color, friendly people and lilting music.

New Film Company To Peninsula

Cinetec Associates, a new film company devoted to other-than-usual, high quality productions, has opened a studio in Monterey on Dela Vina Street.

The new firm is headed by Reza Gharib and Sam Harrison, who first worked together in the spring of 1968 for Frohman Productions, Inc., also of Monterey.

Both have had extensive experience in film making elsewhere, but have decided to make the Peninsula their home. Reza is now having an unusual new home built in Carmel's High Meadow, having purchased an ocean view site from Carmel Realty Co. Sam Harrison had spent enough time here in the past to make the decision to live here permanently.

Reza Gharib is a graduate of the National Academy of Fine Arts in Hamburg, Germany. He spent several years as a cinematographer travelling throughout Iran, filming at one time, Edward R. Murrow's "Person to Person" for CBS, with the Shah, Mohammed Reza Pahlavi. Subsequently, he worked in Rome as an assistant director, and as a director of photography on numerous feature productions.

Sam Harrison is a graduate of U.C.L.A.'s Motion Picture Division of The College of Fine Arts. He worked for several years in Los Angeles as a cameraman-editor on TV films, and as an independent filmmaker. Initially as a production manager, later as a producer and director, he has had extensive experience in government agency, sales promotional, industrial, educational and other non-theatrical film making.

Joanna — Irresponsible Joanna explores mod, amoral London life to the fullest, going from lover to lover until one teaches her responsibility. Genevieve White is the star.

The Killing of Sister George — Potentialities and pitfalls of trying to put sexual deviation on the screen. Comes off pretty well with Beryl Reid, Susannah York and Coral Browne.

Where Eagles Dare — Great suspense stuff during WWII rescue of U.S. general from a Gestapo headquarters castle. Fantastic goings on and lots of action.

The Party — Peter Sellers and director Blake Edwards team for the third time in this comedy about a thoroughly incompetent and bumbling actor from India lost in the jungles of Hollywood.

The Lion in Winter — Peter O'Toole and Katherine Hepburn turn in outstanding performances in this drama of Henry II and his queen. Great dialogue and a great film.

Swiss Family Robinson — An outstanding remake of this classic adventure tale. Every child dreams of an elephant to help with the work, an enormous turtle that can carry and pull, and a giant ostrich to ride on. Swiss Family Robinson has all of this, in a clean, wholesome family movie.

I Love You, Alice B. Toklas — Peter Sellers in a spoof of the establishment, hippies, yuppies, the whole swinging lot. No favoritism toward any one group.

Camelot — Richard Harris as Arthur and Vanessa Redgrave as Guenevere and Franco Nero as the superhero Lancelot. Lovely music, great drama and outstanding acting.

The Sergeant — Sensitive portrayal of a gruff Army sergeant by Rod Steiger who returns to an Army post in France after WW II. Convincing dialogue and outstanding acting.

Theatre Guide

Everybody Loves Opal — Oh so funny comedy about three of the most inept con artists ever portrayed, who unsuccessfully try to bilk a kindly lady junk dealer out of her shoes, then form equally unsuccessful plots to knock her off for her insurance. One of the wackiest plays ever produced. Now at the Studio Theater-Restaurant weekends. Better call 624-1661 for reservations.

Ten Little Indians — Alternating comedy and chilling suspense make this Circle Theater production great entertainment. Direction is well paced, acting more than adequate, and it all adds up to another hit from the Community Players. Reservations recommended by calling 624-2669.

FOOD PURCHASE

Why We Make This Amazing Offer

WE THINK every family should own a good authoritative encyclopedia—especially in homes where there are children of school age.

We believe the Funk & Wagnalls Standard Reference Encyclopedia is the ideal set because it is highly recommended for home and family use*, and we can make it available to you at a truly amazing price.

And, through our book-at-a-time plan, the small cost per book fits even the most modest budget...

OUR AMAZING PROPOSAL

To convince you that everything we say is true, we are willing to give you Volume No. 1 for only 9¢ with any food purchase of $3.00 or more. Yes—for only 9¢ you can take home Volume No. 1 of the encyclopedia to examine at your leisure—to show to the other members of your family—to permit your children to get their teacher's approval.

Then, if you are delighted with the volume and want to own the other volumes of the set, they can be yours for only $1.69 each—a truly amazing value!

amazing value!

SUPPLY OF VOLUME NO. 1 IS LIMITED

The publishers of the encyclopedia have provided us with only a limited number of books to be given away at this unheard of price.

When they are gone, we can get no more. So to be sure to get your copy, please call at the store as soon as possible. If you wait too long, you may miss this opportunity forever.

Huge Treasury of Knowledge—Magnificent Edition

Each volume has the contents of three ordinary books. The complete set contains SEVEN MILLION WORDS in all, in nearly ten thousand double-columned pages, covering over THIRTY THOUSAND different subjects embracing a condensation of all man's knowledge!

This Eldorado Deluxe Edition is really gorgeous, bound in creamy simulated leather, stamped in red, black and gold, with special end-papers, full-color frontispieces, thousands of photographs, drawings, and diagrams illustrating the text, and full-color maps of every country on the globe comprising a complete World Atlas. Most beautiful of all, the page-tops of all the volumes are gilded, as only really expensive books are gilded, making the set a superbly luxurious ornament for any home.

So, if you are delighted with Volume No. 1, be sure to build a complete set for your home—a volume or more every week!

JFK FILM — "John F. Kennedy: Years of Lightning, Day of Drums," a stirring full-length motion picture of the two years and 10 months presidency of John F. Kennedy, will show at Carmel's Village Theatre on April 23 and 24 for the benefit of the Carmel American Field Service International Scholarship Fund. There will be five performances: Wednesday, Apr. 23 at 2, 7:30, and 9:30 and Thursday, Apr. 24 at 7:30 and 9:30. Showing with this fine film will be the Academy-award winning short subject "A Place to Stand," which was shown at Expo '67. Tickets may be obtained by calling 624-1788 or 624-4922 or writing to Mrs. Richard Stipel, Box 596, Carmel. Only tickets purchased from Carmel AFS members will benefit the Chapter.

Del Monte Properties Now Major Sand Producer, Sets Quarterly Dividend

At the conclusion of 1968 Del Monte Properties Company consummated its acquisition of all of the outstanding shares of Wedron Silica Company, Chicago.

As a result, Wedron is now a wholly owned subsidiary of Del Monte, which has become one of the major producers of commercial and industrial sand in the United States.

Alfred Gawthrop, President of Wedron, has been

CMTHA Reports Memorial Gain

A major source of support for programs of the Central Mission Trails Heart Association are contributions given by local donors in memory of deceased friends.

Since July 1st, 1968, more than $20,000 has been received by the Heart Association from memorial donors in Monterey, San Benito and Santa Cruz County.

Loren E. Smith of Seaside, treasurer of the Central Mission Trails Heart Association, reports that the total received in the memorial program is slightly more than last year at this time. The reason is the growing popularity of memorial gifts, which pay tribute to those who have passed away by supporting programs aimed at healthier longer lives for those left behind.

There are twelve community depositories for memorial contributions, and Carmel's is Gus Johnson—Bank of America, Box 300, Carmel.

California Stock Average Up Over 1967 Says Lundborg Securities Review

California Stock Average has again decisively outperformed the Dow Jones Industrials, according to the Western Securities Review, an annual report just released by Irving Lundborg & Company.

Throughout 1968 the market, as measured by the Dow

Jones Industrial Average, traded in a relatively narrow range and closed the year with approximately a 5 per cent increase in the averages over year-end 1967. The California Stock Average, composed of major California companies, increased approximately 12 per cent.

In the future, the report anticipates that the companies in the Western United States will continue to expand more rapidly than their national counterparts as a result of above average population growth and the vigorous business climate of the region.

The report breaks down western stocks into 12 major groups, with comments on each.

The 40 stocks chosen for the review (banks, public utilities, food chains, food packers, department stores, oil, transportation industrials and aerospace) reflect the overall economy of California — but overall selectivity in individual stock issues will be the watchword for 1969, it concludes.

The Western Securities Review is currently available to the public through all branches of Irving Lundborg & Company.

Epilepsy Society Formed Locally

At a recent meeting the Monterey Peninsula Epilepsy Society elected officers, and thereby became an official organization.

It is the first and only organization of its kind for epileptics on the Monterey Peninsula.

At a special meeting of the newly elected officers, a program for the Monterey Peninsula Epilepsy Society was outlined, and its goal were decided. Meetings will be held every fourth Thursday in the month, the place of meeting to be announced later.

Movies about epilepsy will be shown, and experts in the field of epileptics will be invited as guest speakers. The main goals of the society will be to inform the general public about the facts of epilepsy, to help epileptics obtain proper care and medication, and to eventually help them find jobs so that they may be self supporting.

If interested, contact a member of the Epilepsy Society by phoning 373-1487 during the day or 372-3836 after 6 p.m.

MPC Library Open

For the convenience of day students, evening students and the general public, the Monterey Peninsula College library will be open — beginning Apr. 7 — from 7:45 a.m. to 10:30 p.m. Monday through Thursday and until 4:30 p.m. Fridays, MPC Librarian Jerome Wright has announced.

Previously, the library closed Monday through Thursday at 9:30 p.m.

Wright stressed that any resident of the college district is eligible to avail himself of borrowing privileges, free of charge at the MPC library.

Rabies Warning By Health Dept.

A rabid skunk was shot last week near Greenfield. This is the first known positive case of rabies in animals in 1969, according to Dr. D. L. Caswell, Public Health Veterinarian.

Several positive cases of rabies are reported in skunks and bats almost every year," said Dr. Caswell. "There is apparently no one area in the county where rabies does not occur from time to time. It is for this reason the state law requires that all dogs be inoculated against rabies at least once every two years. Because dogs are the most likely household pets to be exposed, annual vaccination is the principal barrier in keeping rabies from invading our homes."

Reduced-fee rabies vaccination clinics, held annually in Monterey County, are to be announced soon. There will be a clinic conducted in every community in the county sometime during May, according to the Health Department.

Britten's 'Peter Grimes' To Be Given Apr. 5 Over Metropolitan Opera Radio

Benjamin Britten's opera, "Peter Grimes," which was last broadcast in 1967, will be given once again over the Texaco-Metropolitan Opera Radio Network on Saturday, Apr. 5, starting at 11 a.m.

Medical Society, MPC Offer Forum

"Focus on Man and Medicine," a series of six Wednesday evening forum sessions featuring prominent local physicians in lectures and discussions for the layman on current achievements in medicine, will open Apr. 2 at Monterey Peninsula College with a talk by Dr. Len H. Andrus of King City of "Rural Health in Southern Monterey County."

All sessions will begin at 7:30 p.m. in the MPC Lecture Forum. No admission will be charged.

The initial session will be followed by: Dr. Robert L. Black of Monterey speaking on "Genetics and Medicine," Apr. 9; Thomas Tonkin, director of the Community Hospital, on "Trends in Hospitals," Apr. 16; Dr. Alfred Ganascol of Monterey on "Psychiatry and Medicine," Apr. 23; Dr. Donald Scanlon of Carmel on "The Heart," Apr. 30; and Dr. Russell D. Williams of Monterey on "Treatment of Cancer," May 7.

The series is being presented as a community service under the joint auspices of the college and the Monterey County Medical Society.

OBITUARY

Mrs. Anne Peat, 90, Carmel resident for 23 years, died Mar. 25 at her home on Santa Fe between Mountain View and 8th. She was born in Mormon Bar, Calif. She was a member of Church of the Wayfarer.

over KSCO, 1080 kc and KSCO-FM 99.1 mc.

It is the dramatic story of a strange, embittered and somewhat enigmatic fisherman who loses two boy apprentices in his bouts with the sea and, along with them, his dream of respectability and a life with the local school teacher, Ellen.

Singing principal roles will be soprano Lucine Amara as Ellen Orford, mezzo-soprano Lili Chookasian as Auntie, mezzo-soprano Jean Madeira as Mrs. Sedley, tenor Jon Vickers in the title role, and baritone Geraint Evans as Captain Balstrode. The English conductor, Colin Davis, will be on the podium.

During the first intermission "Opera News on the Air," Boris Goldovsky, the noted operatic musicologist, will give a musical and dramatic analysis of "Peter Grimes."

"Peter Grimes" had its world premiere at Sadler Wells in London on June 7, 1945. The work brought international fame to its composer, Benjamin Britten, and gave him front rank among contemporary opera composers.

Following its triumphal debut in London, "Peter Grimes" was soon being performed in opera houses throughout the world. The work had its Metropolitan Opera premiere in 1948.

The opera is filled with sea chanteys, polytonal duets, simple jigs, broad arias, stark recitatives, and realistic tone painting in the orchestra (the four "Sea Interludes," for example). With the skill of a master, Britten has fused his diverse material into a gripping psychological drama.

Masters Concert

The following major works will be featured on the Masters Concert during the week of April 3 over K-Wave Stereo (96.9) at 8 p.m.

REELECTED — Dr. A. Carol McKenney of Carmel (left), who was re-elected president of the Board of Trustees of Community Hospital, welcomes a new member to the board, Charles Chayne of Pebble Beach, former auto industry executive who was elected at the annual membership meeting held at the hospital Wednesday (March 26). Dr. McKenney is professor emeritus of clinical medicine at Stanford University.

Chayne, Murray Named to Community Hospital Board, McKenney Reelected

Charles Chayne of Pebble Beach and James Murray of Monterey were elected new members of the Board of Trustees of Community Hospital at the annual membership meeting held at the hospital last week.

Murray, a financier, and Chayne, a former auto industry executive, were elected to succeed J. O. Handley and Loren Smith, who had served two consecutive three-year terms and were ineligible for reelection.

Re-elected to the Board for their second terms were Mrs. John M. Marble of Carmel Valley; J. Arch Butts of Monterey, auto dealer; and Arthur C. Stewart of Pebble Beach, oil corporation executive.

At the organizational board meeting following the general membership meeting, Dr. A. Carol McKenney, emeritus professor of clinical medicine of Stanford University Medical School, was re-elected to his third term as president of the board. Stewart was elected vice president; Robert O. McMahan, former furniture corporation executive, was elected secretary, and Cyril Chappellet, aircraft corporation executive, was named treasurer.

In his annual report, Dr. McKenney said: "Without question, the big stories of the last 12 months are the actual commencement of work on Project '69 — the hospital's expansion — and the dramatic and successful completion of the fund drive needed to finance it."

The Board president said the $3,914,000 contract for the addition which will double the floor space at the hospital was awarded to Rothschild and Raffin of San Francisco and the completion date is now set for November.

Dr. McKenney said Community Hospital shared with six other Northern California hospitals in the opening of a new central laundry plant at San Carlos where the hospital linens are now processed at a substantial saving.

In his report, the doctor mentioned the hospital's acquisition of a remarkable, automated blood serum analyzer that permits physicians to order more laboratory work for their patients at greatly reduced cost with important benefits for the patients.

Also mentioned by Dr. McKenney was the establishment of the hospital's first life income trust during the year. Under this plan a family donated substantial stock to the hospital in return for a more attractive income picture and important tax advantages.

In concluding, he said: "It

AAA Breaks Ground for New Building

The California State Automobile Association broke ground Monday, Mar. 31, for its new Monterey District office on Porta Vista Street in the Monte Vista Village Shopping Center. The new one-story building will contain more than 4,100 square feet of floor space with construction expected to be completed in September.

Approximate cost of the building is $103,946. The lot is 20,000 square feet in area and was purchased by the Association in January, 1968 for $70,000.

The building will be constructed of contemporary Spanish-California style with a cedar shake roof. The latest equipment for modern auto club service will be incorporated in the structure, including air conditioning.

Off-street parking for 17 vehicles will be available.

The office will eventually employ 50 persons.

Manager of the Monterey office is Bruce V. Lord.

Architect for the building is Robert R. Jones, A.I.A., of 550 Camino El Estero, Monterey. The contractor is Kraftzack Construction Co. of Monterey.

When completed, the new office will replace the present AAA office located at 400 Camino El Estero.

Who Served the Longest?

We're looking for the local resident who has served the longest on active duty in the Army. Drop us a line if you think you served longer than anyone else in the community. Our address is Room B-4, Post Office Building, Monterey.

Army Pay Raised Again

Remember when the newly enlisted private in the Army made $21. a month? Most of the World War II veterans will remember that figure since that's what they were paid in the early 1940's. Well hold your hats, folks. Army pay has been raised again and today's newly enlisted private is making $109.50 a month plus free room and board and free medical and dental care. Promotion opportunities being what they are today, it is possible for this new recruit to be earning as much as $261.90 a month (plus free room and board) within eight months after he is sworn into service. As one World War II vet recently remarked to us, "The Army isn't what it used to be!"

A Lady General?

Don't be surprised if you pick up the newspaper one fine day real soon and read about the Army's first female general. Former President Johnson signed legislation some months ago making women eligible for general rank. Though we don't have our first female general. I have already volunteered to be her chauffeur.

Judges Named for Achievement Award

Bank of America today named five judges to select zone winners from area high school students in the bank's annual Achievement Awards competition at Hartnell College in Salinas on Thursday, Apr. 10.

The decision of these judges will boost four of 43 hopefuls into area finals and an opportunity to compete for 1,000 cash awards next month in Fresno.

Judges of the zone event are: James R. Duffy, finance director of the City of Salinas; Russell Hoss, executive director of the Seaside Redevelopment Agency; Stanley L. Maynes, president of Wiebe Mfg. Co., Inc., Hollister; Frank D. Moller, Jr., controller of Granite Construction Co. in Watsonville; and Dr. Ralph Schroder, president of Gavilan College in Gilroy.

First place zone winners are chosen in each of four study fields — fine arts, science and mathematics, vocational arts, and liberal arts.

The four winners at the zone event are assured of $150 minimum prizes at the area finals, and will compete for other prizes ranging to the four first place grants of $1,000. Second and third place zone winners in each of the four fields receive $50 and $25 awards, respectively.

Seniors from Carmel High School participating in the zone event are Nicolette Hariri in Fine Arts and Tatiana Granoff in Liberal Arts.

What Price Water?

You can not drink 10c worth of water per year, at local rates.

The average non-farmer's consumption for all purposes is about one fifth acre foot per year, equivalent to a 24'-50' swimming pool.

So said Admiral Charles Wheelock (USN Ret), guest speaker at Carmel's High 12 Club Monday.

A technical advisor on our sea water conversion program and an outstanding authority on water, Admiral Wheelock gave his listeners a new water perspective.

Some interesting comparisons are: In the desert areas water sells for about $1,000, per acre foot the distilled water you buy in the grocery store runs from $10 to $100,000 per acre foot, wine about $1,000,000 and the average whiskey about $10,000,000 per acre foot.

For agricultural purposes, the San Joaquin Valley pays about $1.00 per acre foot and beyond this price most farming would find water uneconomical.

Admiral Wheeler said he finds the reverse osmosis process of water conversion to be very interesting and that the operation at Torre Pine Mesa is producing water through this method for $100 per acre foot.

This seems to indicate that salt water conversion has become feasible for non-agricultural, industrial purposes and should have a tremendous impact on coast real estate.

Morgan Horse Group To Meet

The first annual meeting to be held in the West has been announced by The National Morgan Horse Club, Inc. who will meet in Monterey, on July 3. The event will also serve as the official kick-off for the three-day Golden West National Morgan Horse Show, planned for July 4, 5, and 6 at the Fairgrounds, Monterey.

The Golden West Show will feature three days of various Morgan classes, exhibiting this versatile breed of horse in action, both in English and Western events. Morgans, which had their beginning in New England in the latter part of the 18th Century, are used as pleasure, performance, trail, and harness horses.

The Young Actors Company will present a trio of Easter plays, "The Evening, The Night, The Morning," beginning this evening at 8:30 p.m. at the theater in the ground, Forest Theater, Carmel. Other performances are scheduled for Friday and Saturday of this week at the same time.

The plays were written and directed by Marcia Gambrell Hovick, general manager of The Young Actors Company. Costumes are by Loel Shuler, and production designs by William Leis.

All of the actors are under 18 years of age. They come from all parts of the Peninsula.

The three plays deal with events that might have happened to people close to Jesus in the final days of His life. What, for example, happened to Judas to cause him to betray his Master? Was it greed, envy or jealousy? Why did he hang himself? What, besides the ceremony of the Last Supper, occurred in that upstairs room?

Among those in the cast of the three plays are: Cary Crockett, Jim Cook, Allison Faul, Bob Faul, Pat Culley, Joey Girotti and Gwyneth Hovick.

James Lapidus, Linda Leone, Hatie Hovick, Claudia Landon, Mary Mabe, Naomi Marcus, Rima Marzeo, Greg Niebel, Jim O'Brien, Tony Padilla, Mike

Roberts, Karen Shaffer, Barbara Shuler, Mark Shuler, Cathy Thaler, Jeff Wickham, Cindy Slater and Gail Stutzman.

Paul Caponigro's photography is featured in the new exhibit at the Friends of Photography Studio at Sunset Center, San Carlos and 9th Streets, Carmel.

The Studio is open daily from 1 to 5 p.m. except Mondays. Admission is free.

Paul Caponigro was born in Boston in 1932. His interest in photography developed in his high school days, although at that time his first love was music.

After a year at Boston University's College of Music, he began an apprenticeship in commercial photography. During his service in the Army he met and studied with Benjamin Chin, a former student of Minor White and Ansel Adams at the California School of Fine Arts.

Upon his return to civilian life, Mr. Caponigro became a free lance photographer. Further study followed with Benjamin Chin, Alfred Richter and Minor White.

He became a consultant to the Polaroid Corporation in 1960; in addition he began teaching photography at Boston University.

Mr. Caponigro has received many honors and awards in recognition of his fine work, including a Guggenheim Fellowship.

Librarian's Notebook

By Ruth Galvin Thornburg, City Librarian

Being much interested in foods and cooking has several disadvantages, one of which is of course the added pounds you may put on while trying out the recipes. Comes now a cook book which might do the opposite for you.

It is called Zen Macrobiotic Cooking and it is concerned with the cooking which is done by Zen priests in Japan who are said to live longer and happier lives than the rest of us. The recipes sound fascinating and palatable and economical.

This librarian is buying a copy for the home front and after reading the book, you may decide to do the same. It was written by Michel Abhehsera, a Moroccan Jew, who took up this type of cooking as an aid to better health. Brown rice, anyone?

Another new cookbook this week is The Delectable Egg by M. E. Marshall. Here we have a sizable cookbook filled with egg recipes, many of which sound as if the result would be delicious. You try these recipes. I am busy with the brown rice mentioned above!

The Emperor's Talisman is by Rosalind Pflaum and is the life story of the Duc de Morny who was the son of Queen Hortense of Holland. The Duc was born in 1811 and in 1851 he was appointed ambassador to Russia by the Emperor Napoleon. There he married the beautiful Princess Troubetskoy.

His wit and charm were proverbial. He died at the age of 54 and his death deprived the regime of his valuable services. The book takes its name from a remark of Daudet, who said of Morny, "He was the most brilliant incarnation of the Second Empire... the slender gilded spire that gratifies the eye... the Emperor's talisman."

Friends of the late Thomas Close have been sending memorial checks to this library for the purchase of books in his memory.

Learning that he loved poetry and often wrote poetry himself, we are buying books of poetry with these memorial funds. These will all be classified under the numbers 811 or 821.

These fascinating little numbers which are a source of mystification to most people are really very simple. The first number is 8 and that stands for literature. The second number is for the country of origin, and the 1 is for America and the alternate 2 is for Great Britain. The final 1 means poetry. In other words these books are all either British or American poetry.

Today we have Rod McKuen's new collection called Lonesome Cities. This is wistful, longing, loving poetry.

Last book for today is not the sort of thing you would pick up for an hour or two of pleasant reading. It was written by four outstanding German historians, the original works having been projected as statements to be used in the War Crimes Trials, and later on collected into this book. The title is Anatomy of The SS State, which state was called by one writer, "the ultimate madness of will." Hard reading here, full of information.

We have a transportation problem these days, which should soon be resolved. If new books seem a little slow, this is the reason. Courage, mon brave! !!!

Social Security and You

By Raymond MacDonald

Q. Does a disabled widow, age 50, receive the same monthly payment as the widow who starts receiving payments at age 62?

A. No, she doesn't. A 50-year-old widow will receive 50% of her husband's base amount, whereas, the age 62 widow receives 82 1/2% of her husband's base amount. Both widows will receive the same total amount of money if both live to be 76 years of age. The benefit is reduced each month to take into account the life expectancy of a widow who receives payments before age 62.

Q. My mother needs help with her social security claim, but has been ill and unable to visit the office. What should she do?

A. While a visit at the local office is preferred, many social security matters can be handled by mail or telephone. If this is not possible, and your mother cannot travel to the office, a representative from your local social security office will visit her at home.

(Mail your questions to Social Security, c/o Carmel Pine Cone, Carmel, or phone Social Security office 373 3351).

SPECIAL PERFORMANCE — An octet of Peninsula singers rehearse for a service of lessons and anthems to be held at the Community Church of the Monterey Peninsula on Tuesday, Apr. 8 at 8 p.m. Under the direction of Warren Coker, who is also organist for the service, the group will perform works including, Brahms, Bach, Corelli, and Arcadelt. From left are Robert Armstead, Robert, Robert McKelvey, Morris Dill, James Hull, Glenna Dewese, Betty Jane Johnson, Beverly Broome, and Helen Wheeler. Readers participating in the service are the Rev. Burkert Cree, the Rev. Donald Johnson, the Rev. Newton Holder, Canon Edwin Moss, and Dr. George Thorngate. The church is located one mile up Carmel Valley Road from Highway 1. Everyone is welcome to attend.

HIT RECORD? — Sister Andrew Canoles, a native of Carmel and now director of the 60-voice girl choir of the Mt. Carmel Catholic School in Redwood City, is in the record business with her group. After months of practice the group has made a stereo album, and most of the original 1,000 copies is gone. The album contains The Wedding Banquet, Exodus, The Impossible Dream, Born Free, Catch a Falling Star, Battle Hymn of the Republic, Yellow Bird Let There Be Peace on Earth, Lonely Goatherd, the Mt. Carmel theme song and others in the same vein. The Fidelity Record Co. of Redwood City produced the album. Sister Andrew is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Canoles of Carmel.

Mental Health Group Hears County Chief

Various aspects of the Lanterman-Petris-Short Act which will become effective July 1, and their effect on Monterey County were explained by Dr. W. K. Rubrecht, Monterey County Mental Health Services Program Chief, during the meeting in Carmel last week of the board of directors of the county Association for Mental Health.

Dr. Rubrecht told the group of the changes in care of the mentally ill which will be activated by the new legislation. His remarks covered methods of commitment, both voluntary and involuntary, of mentally ill persons.

He discussed with the group the requirement for counties of 100,000 population or more to provide mental health services, the current lack of facilities and staff in Monterey County and the plans and goals to be implemented by this county.

Dr. Rubrecht continued: "The new legislation makes mandatory the expansion of the county advisory board from the previous seven members to a 13-member group. A plan for county mental health services which must be approved by the board and the board of supervisors, must be submitted prior to the July date."

Counties may contract with any bona fide facility to provide needed care. At the present time Monterey County has no private hospitals which can provide care for the mentally ill other than 15 beds in Community Hospital in Salinas which are available only for short term care. Services are contracted with Agnews State Hospital. Population there from Monterey County averages about 250 patients.

'God's Power At Hand' At Sunset

Spiritual power and its release in human affairs will be discussed in a public Christian Science lecture to be given in Carmel, Tuesday, Apr. 8 by William Henry Alton, C.S.B., of New York City. The lecture is titled: "God's Power at Hand."

Sponsored by First Church of Christ, Scientist, Carmel, the lecture is scheduled in Sunset Center Auditorium, located at San Carlos and 9th.

William Alton resigned as administrator for the Rockefeller Brothers Governmental Studies several years ago to devote full time to the Christian Science healing ministry in New York City.

He has since become an authorized teacher of the religion, and is currently on tour as a member of The Christian Science Board of Lectureship.

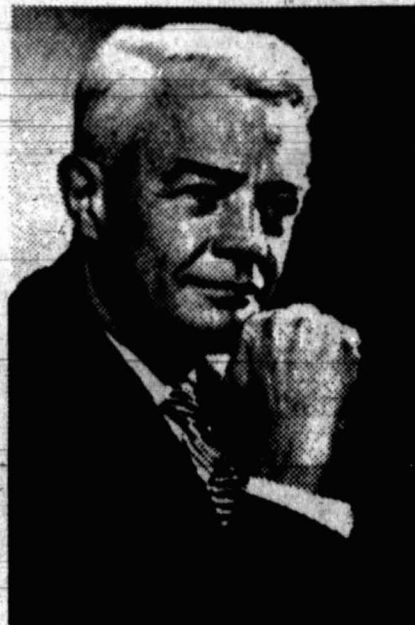

He formerly held a number of executive posts in the oil industry and other international development enterprises, and during World War II served as a captain of military intelligence with the airborne corps in Europe.

Christian Science Bible Lesson

"Who raised up the righteous man from the east, called him to his foot, gave the nations before him, and made him rule over kings?"

This passage from Isaiah is part of the Bible Lesson-Sermon that will be heard in all Christian Science churches on Easter.

"In his resurrection and ascension, Jesus showed that a mortal man is not the real essence of manhood, and that this unreal material mortality disappears in presence of the reality." This correlative passage from Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures by Mary Baker Eddy is included in the week's lesson on "Unreality."

Composers Appear

Composers of Monterey Peninsula will appear in a recital of their original compositions Saturday, Apr. 12 at 8:30 p.m. in the Monterey Peninsula College Music Hall. The program is open to the public without charge.

The Music Teachers Association of California will sponsor this first presentation of nine Peninsula composers, residents of Carmel, Monterey, Pacific Grove, Pebble Beach and Salinas. The composers are Robert Brown, Dan Haerle, Gail Harris (Mrs. Don R. Harris), Elayne Lavrans (Mrs. Roy Chanslor), David Mulder, Marie Oliver, William Purdy, Hascal Vaughan Stewart and Barrett Williams.

The program includes a variety of works for trumpet, piano and goatbells, piano solos, vocal solos, flute and piano, a mixed ensemble, piano pieces for children, conventional and unconventional instruments with tape system. It offers the Peninsula music enthusiast an opportunity to meet local composers, and to hear live, music being written here.

Where is heaven?

Up in the sky? Far away? A place to go when you die?

Not according to Christ Jesus. He taught that "the kingdom of heaven is at hand."

If you are searching for the joy and satisfaction that constitutes this heaven, you will find our Reading Room a good place to begin.

There you will find books and periodicals that explain heaven in practical terms and give you a basis for finding true peace and fulfillment.

WE HAVE THREE EXCELLENT building sites awaiting the astute investor:

1. An almost level 0.868 acre site on Oleada Road in Pebble Beach with an ocean view for $35,000.
2. An 0.941 acre gently sloping non-ocean-view site for $22,500. However, it is well within cart distance of three courses.
3. Our Rancho Rio Vista site has a panoramic view of Point Lobos and the Valley. It is easy to build on and only a short driveway is required. It is an outstanding oak-studded 1.10 acre investment at $22,500.

HAVE YOU BEEN LOOKING FOR a three-bedroom, two-bath, separate dining room, 2100-square-foot home with a view of Point Lobos and the Valley from almost every room? Want a quiet cul de sac location? Minimum maintenance yard? We have one for $55,000.

THE TERMS OF REFERENCE of several of our customers leave us a little short on the availability side (e.g., three-bedroom, two-bath, all-on-one-level home with an excellent ocean view—up to $85,000). Perhaps your home will meet the requirements of some of them.

WILL A SMALL TWO-BEDROOM bungalow with a delightful sunny breakfast area in the kitchen and an oak-studded front yard plus a fenced rear yard for a pet or child meet your requirements? We have one at $28,500 and the owner will carry a second trust deed.

Give Your Life A Whole New Dimension

LIVE WITH THE OCEAN

1. Buy a house on Scenic Drive for only $79,000 and spend your time on the beach or enjoying the Sea from your windows or sunning in your enclosed patio. Practically no care required for the house or the garden.
2. Or live in the most luxurious almost-new home in Carmel Meadows, with a whole beach just below your windows and Point Lobos your near neighbor. Worth every penny of the $170,000 price.
3. Or select an older stone hacienda with its own private deeded right to use the beaches on Point Lobos. One of Carmel Highlands' truly fascinating estates for $225,000.

RETREAT TO THE MOUNTAINS

and find your peace and contentment on six acres of forest primeval in a rugged stone and heavy timber and glass house the like of which you've never even imagined. It's an experience just to look at it. Price $59,500.

HIDE AWAY WEEKENDS IN CARMEL VALLEY

1. In the village itself, but in your own private world and the most fascinating little house out there. If you have flair and imagination and a taste for things nouveau, you'll want our $37,500 special.
2. If you'd rather be up on the mountain looking down and looking across at the Santa Lucias, how about a little adobe on a full acre for only $32,500?

LIVE WHERE YOU PLAY GOLF

1. For only $35,000 we have just listed a delightful little Comstock-built two-bedroom in one of the prettiest gardens in the Club. Great weekend or plenty big enough for a couple who are usually out playing golf.
2. A very handsome new home on Mora Lane which somehow manages to get real old fashioned charm into rooms full of exciting new architectural and decorating features. Couldn't be duplicated at the $65,000 price.

ACCEPT A CHALLENGE

Take on an eight-unit apartment house or a triplex near the Hill Theater in Monterey. Lovely two-bedroom, two-bath units, but the outside could stand some imagination. It's a no-vacancy location, too. $129,950 for the 8 units and $55,000 for the triplex.

BE THE SECOND OWNERS! Our newest listing has never been on the market since it was custom built for the present family. They've cared for it in a kindly fashion and are now offering it to you as they are moving out of state.

It's on a lovely wooded lot behind Carmel High with a restful outlook onto the mountains. Three bedrooms and 2½ baths, large paneled living room with dining "ell" plus a family area in the kitchen. There's a large bricked patio, and oceans of storage space in the basement."

At $44,500, this is fairly priced and will sell. If you need this kind of home you'd better see this one. It's GOOD!

Padres Win, Then Lose in Tourney

By Hal Gann

Carmel's varsity baseball team, off to a sour 0-2 start in league play, regained opening-season form to win two games Monday in the San Jose Lions Club Tournament.

Saturday the Padres were dumped by Samuel Ayer of San Jose, 6-0, in an opening round game, but came back strong Monday to nip John Kennedy of Fremont, 6-5, behind the five-hit hurling of Lee Mark and the batting of firstbaseman Mitch Kastros and centerfielder Jimmy DeAmeral.

Then, to make it a perfect Monday, Carmel bested Del Mar of the San Jose West Side League, 3-1, with Tom Boyd allowing just three hits to get credit for the victory, once again DeAmeral and Kastros providing the timely hitting.

On Tuesday, the local entry was edged by Overfelt of San Jose's strongest league in the tournament's consolation semifinals by a score of 3-2, with Mike Dress allowing only four hits to take the loss in his first pitching performance.

Next Padre broadcast is Friday or Saturday evening over KRSB-FM, 100.7, at 9:30, depending on how Carmel fares in the 11th Annual Dad's Club Tournament at Harvey West Stadium in Santa Cruz.

The Red and White's first-round opponent is Soquel High at 7:00 tonight.

Carmel, with the tournament experience gained from San Jose and Santa Cruz, should come back home strong against arch-rival Pacific Grove, one of the MTAL co-favorites, Friday, Apr. 11.

The Blotter—

EASTER PARADE — Or at least Easter week parade down Ocean Avenue accompanied by a traffic jam of gigantic proportions. The town was really jumping with visitors, the beaches were reminiscent of Coney Island on a summer day, but flags flying at half-staff for Dwight David Eisenhower somewhat reduced the gaiety of Monday noon scene. Carmel Police Chief Clyde Klamann called on all the police reserves and cancelled considerable time off in order to cope with the influx of visitors, most of whom were orderly. However, more than 80 arrests were made for violation of sleeping on the beach laws, there was a purse snatching and a mugging until Tuesday, when the crowd began to thin.

There's reason to feel secure when your well-saved money is steadily earning 5% interest in the plan that suits you best. At Bank of America you can choose from several basic savings plans, any one of which may be just right for you. Take a look at these:

5% Investors Passbook Account

$500 will get this one started, and additional deposits can be made in amounts of $100 or more. Your 5% interest is compounded quarterly. You can make a withdrawal quarterly, too. Or leave your funds where they are to accumulate.

5% Time Certificate of Deposit

Bank of America Time Certificates also earn 5% annual interest. These certificates are issued for $1000 or more. They mature every 6 months. The 5% interest can be credited automatically to your savings account. Then your total annual rate of return can exceed 5%.

5% Five Year Guaranteed Certificate of Deposit

This is the long term interest guarantee plan.

Certificates are issued for a minimum of $1000. Five year guaranteed interest at 5% per year paid or credited quarterly. You may withdraw the full amount at the end of any quarter without loss of interest to that date.

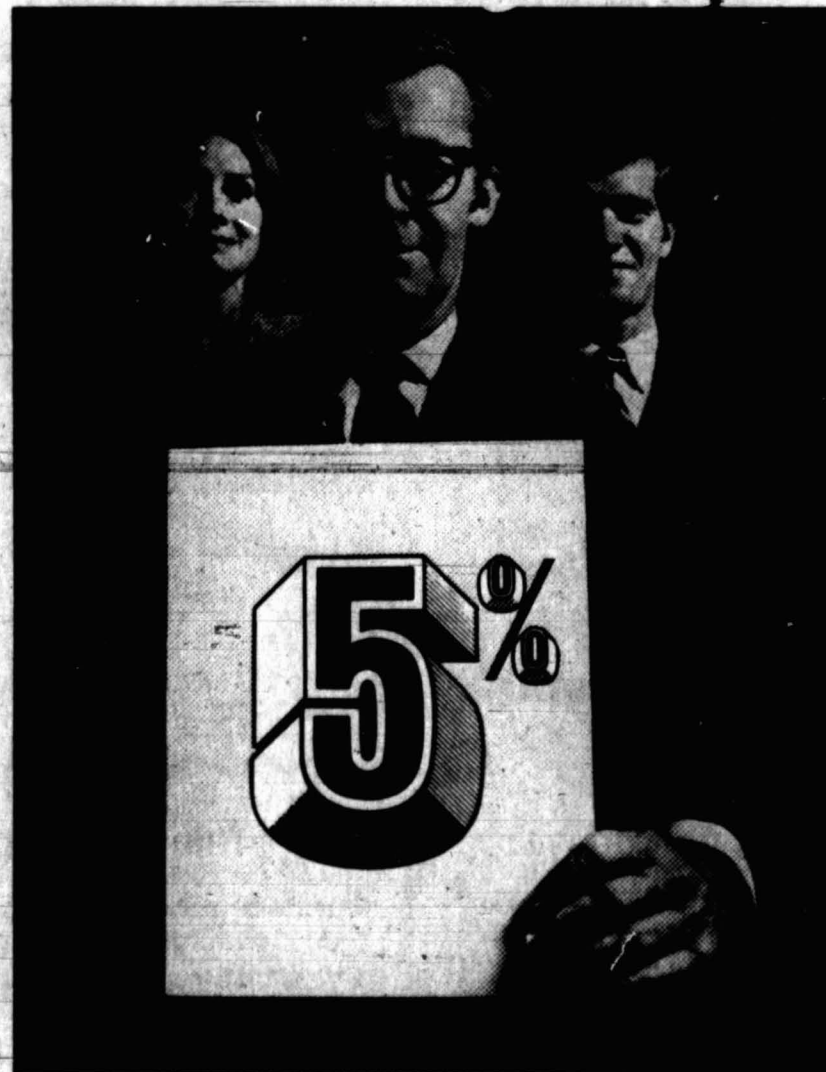

Regular 4% Savings Account

This is still the favorite plan of many because it's convenient, flexible, and at 4% it delivers the maximum interest allowed by law for this type of savings plan. You are free to put money in—any amount. And take it out—all or any part of it—at any time. Deposits made by the tenth of each quarter earn interest from the first of that month.

These are just four of our Personal Choice Savings plans to help your money grow with absolute certainty, and with full interest all the way. So why don't you stop by your local Bank of America branch and take your choice.
